Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer moving image file is deemed to be objectionable because it promotes and supports the exploitation of children or young persons for sexual purposes. It is a video that explicitly depicts a young teenage girl being engaged in sexual activity by a man. It is a visual record of sexual exploitation and is intended to sexually arouse viewers with a prurient interest in young girls. The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention and is a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression. The classification reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to protect its young and vulnerable members from sexual exploitation.
